

LIVING A LIFE THAT MATTERS
Ben Lesser's Blog

Change your place, you change your luck. --Part 2

Ben Lesser has many adventures and tales to share. In this three part episode, he shares his American adventure of moving from East to West.

Read it. Like it. Share it.

The screenshot shows a blog post interface. On the left is a sidebar with a profile picture of Ben Lesser, the title 'LIVING A LIFE THAT MATTERS', and navigation links like 'Home', 'About the Author', and 'BLOG POSTS'. The main content area features a large image of a 'Boyle Heights' street sign with a minaret in the background. Below the image is the title 'Private: "M'shana Mokaum, M'shana Mazel" -Part 2', the date 'JULY 19, 2018', and the quote 'Change your place, you change your luck'. A small note at the bottom says '(Continuation from Part 1)'.

VISIT BEN'S BLOG

"From the day I heard your story, I will always ZACHOR!" -Student

Ben's story is one which sheds light on the realities of life during the Holocaust, and his path to stand up against hatred throughout his career. Separated from his family as a young teen, Ben's story is one of surviving against the odds and, ultimately, thriving.

His survival led him to pen the biography "Living a Life That Matters: From Nazi Nightmare to American Dream" which highlights his liberation and the aftermath of the Holocaust.

Available in paperback, e-book, 8-CD Set and Audiobook download (narrated by Jonathan Silverman). Purchase your copy today!

The banner features the book cover on the left and a portrait of Ben Lesser on the right. Text in the center includes 'Free Shipping By Using Promo Code: FREESHIP At Checkout'. At the bottom, it says 'Proceeds support The ZACHOR's Holocaust Remembrance Foundation' and 'Author, Speaker and Holocaust Survivor - Ben Lesser'.

A yellow and white banner with the text 'WHEN YOU SHOP Amazon donates' and 'Support ZACHOR on AmazonSmile Today!'. The AmazonSmile logo is in the bottom right corner.

Did you know?

Emst Rohm was was one of the first members of the Nazi Party He took part in the Beer-Hall Putsch of 1923, but after the trial he was released. After the victory of the Nazis in the 1930 election he was appointed commander of the SA by Hitler, which at that time had about 170,000 members. Following the Nazi seizure of power Rohm wanted the SA to be incorporated into the German Army He was bitterly opposed by high ranking army officers and by Hitler, who was afraid that Rohm would try to seize power as the head of a military government. Hitler ordered the liquidation of the SA. On June 30, 1934 Rohm and other SA leaders were arrested and shot - this purge was later known as "The Night of the Long Knives."

For more historical facts, check out our timeline

READ IT. LIKE IT. SHARE IT.

STAY CONNECTED

