

"A POWERFUL FILM ABOUT A HORROR WE MUST NEVER FORGET."

- MATT HURT (THE OBSESSIVE VIEWER)

We Shall Not Die Now -- documentary

We had the pleasure last night of seeing a beautiful and important new documentary by film-maker Ashton Gleckman, called "We Shall Not Die Now." Winner of many film and audience choice awards.

Seventy-five years after the conclusion of the Holocaust, this film explores not only the horrific human tragedy and what we can learn from it, but also the resilience of those that rebuilt their lives in spite of the unimaginable. Ben Lesser, founder of the Zachor Holocaust Remembrance Foundation, is one of several remarkable survivors featured in the film.

The producers are looking for opportunities to share the film to new and diverse audiences. If you have ideas or introductions that could help, let us know and we can share it with the team.

For now, the film is being shared with you. Watch it, share it and help the memory of the Holocaust stay alive. ZACHOR.

A chronicle of the Holocaust, exploring stories of survival, tragedy, hope, and resilience through one of history's darkest chapters. "We Shall Not Die Now" is streaming worldwide.
